STRENUOUS TIME GUARDING NEGROES AGAINST STRIKERS

SIX MAURY COUNTIANS RETURN FROM CRACK AND WHIR OF BULLETS.

TWO NEGROES BADLY SHOT

Striking Sectionmen on L. & N. Retire to Hills With Long Range Rifles and Shoot at Strike Breakers—No
Train Trouble—People in Sympathy.

W. J. Goad, Ed Morgan, M. S. Richardson, J. B. Staggs, Bruce White and G. R. Pratt have returned to Columbia after a strenuous two weeks spent in guarding five sections of the L. & N. thirty-six miles south of Cincinnati, from the striking sectionmen. These men were sent up from Columbia as special watchmen to protect negroes working as strike breakers from seventy-five section hands who had quit their jobs and refused to allow other hands to come in.

According to the officers, they did not know their destination until they were put off the train at Petonia, four miles from Covington, Ky., and were told that their job was to protect the negroes who had been imported. In ordinary times, no negroes are allowed in this section, and with the whole country in sympathy with the strikers, the situation was much worse. For the first few days there was no real trouble, the strikers doing a good deal of talking but no shooting. But soon difficulties began. The strikers retired to the hills, and whenever a negro or guard was seen, began to fire on him with long range rifles. The guards were armed with Winchester, but on account of the concealment of the strikers, were unable to do anything but shoot at random in reply to the scattering fire to which they were sometimes subjected.

The crack of bullets by their heads and the whine of the spent balls became common occurrences. On one day the strikers got better ranges than usual, killing one negro and wounding another. Great difficulty was experienced in getting the negroes to go back to work, as they had become terrified, and at the slightest sound would take to the bush for cover.

No harm is being done to the passenger trains, the striking sectionmen confining themselves solely to the strikebreakers. According to the officers, the strikers have no organization, but are running a private strike. It is said in the district that the men want a 10 hour day instead of an 11 hour one, and $1.75 a day instead of $1.40. However, no offers of any description have been made to the railroad officials.

Perhaps the worst thing that the Maury Countians had to contend with was the intense sympathy of the people for the strikers. According to one of the officers the barbers did not want to shave a guard, because they were heart and soul with the strikers. In some places, no articles would be sold the officers. All of the watchmen seen by The Herald representative expressed themselves as being very glad to get back to the peace and prosperity of Maury county.

SKY-HIGH PRICES PREVAIL FOR ALL KINDS FIELD SEED

RYE AND CRIMSON CLOVER TOUCH
HIGHEST MARKS REACHED IN YEARS.

DOUBLE ACREAGE OF CLOVER

Many Farmers Planting This Instead
Of Wheat—Some Frightened by High
Prices, Which Are Due to Bad Conditions at Threshing Time.

Field seeds, especially rye and crimson clover, have advanced to new high points on the local markets. Rye is higher than it has been for many years, at present being quoted at $1.40 to $1.50. Crimson clover is at present selling at $8.75 to $9.00, as against $5.00 to $6.00 for this time of last year. Other field seeds have advanced at almost the same rate.

In spite of the sky-high prices, the acreage which will be sowed in field seed this year, in all probability, be much greater than the county has ever known before. At present there is little demand for anything but crimson clover seed, for the other seeds will not be sowed until September 1. The market is just opening on crimson clover, which will this year be most popular for producing winter pasture. It is estimated by seed men in Columbia that the acreage sowed this year will be double that of any previous year. Although a few farmers have been frightened by the high prices into sowing some other kind of seed, the majority have bought crimson clover. A number of farmers are sowing this fall crimson clover instead of wheat.

The high prices are assigned by seed merchants to the bad weather conditions that prevailed at threshing time. Rain ruined a large part of the seeds, and therefore that which was kept intact is worth more to the sellers.

"ROUGH HOUSE" AT PRIMM SPRINGS

YOUTHS FROM THIS COUNTY ARE SAID TO HAVE GONE ON RAM-PAGE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Six young men from Columbia, are said to have raised about the "roughest house" ever known in the history of Primm Springs on Saturday night and Sunday morning. These young gallants are reported to have drank too freely of the flowing bowl and started out to bring havoc to the Estes House down at the popular resort. It is reported by those who were at the hotel that the Columbia youths broke a large number of lights, kept many of the guests awake and when they were finally subdued by Miss Hugh Ella Estes, the proprietress of the hotel, as a parting shot threw some rocks at one of the cottages. It is said that Miss Estes as well as some of the guests were very indignant and there is some talk of prosecution, although so far as known no warrants have been sworn out.

SAM WINGFIELD CAUGHT SUNDAY

IN NASHVILLE BY DEPUTY SHERIFF
CHURCH—WANTED FOR GAMING AND VAGRANCY.

Sam Winfield, who was fined in Squire Alexander's court last July for gaming and vagrancy, and who later jumped and went to parts unknown, was caroled by Deputy Sheriff L. F. Church Sunday, while Mr. Church was looking for Bradley Thomas, wanted for the cutting of a negro woman in Columbia Saturday night.

Deputy Church went into a restaurant to get him a lunch and saw Sam dishing up "grub" for the hungry throng. "Topwater" was right on to the job and within a few minutes had Sam in his clutches and brought him back to Columbia and landed him in jail. Squire Alexander says that he will send him out to board with John Aklin at the county work house.

BLACK LEG AMONG CATTLE OF COUNTY

SEVERAL HEAD OF CALVES IN THE CULLEOKA SECTION ARE DEAD.

Anthrax or black leg is present in a number of herds of cattle in the southern section of the county. Several fine calves have been lost by a number of farmers in the Culleoka section and Dr. McMahon performed a post mortem on one of the calves and pronounced the trouble to be black leg. Farmers of that section are urged to vaccinate, but some of the calves that died had been vaccinated within the past two months. However, it is stated by veterinarians that sometimes the vaccine does not "take" and sometimes it "runs out" within a month or two, although in the great majority of instances it makes the calf immune for three months or more.

Brownlow While Here.

Rev. Livingston T. Mays, former pastor of the First Baptist church of Columbia, and who resigned that position over two years ago to accept the U. S. consulship to Maritime Province, Canada, and who resigned that position upon the resignation of Secretary Bryan, is in Columbia for a few days. Dr. Mays preached at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and night to a delighted audience.

Mr. Mays is now stationed at New Decatur, Ala., as pastor of the First Baptist church of that city. He is off on a vacation, and during the time has visited a number of cities and towns, among them being St. Louis, Louisville, Nashville and Columbia. He preached at Louisville two Sundays ago and had thirty conversions. He also preached at St. Louis and other places.

Saturday night he delivered a sermon to three thousand soldiers at Camp Rye and had eight conversions. Sunday and Sunday night he preached at Emanuel Baptist church.

Dr. Mays stated to a Herald reporter that during his trip he had had seventy-eight conversions. He will leave in a few days for his home. While in the city he has been the guest of Joseph F. Brownlow and family.

Dr. Mays, in speaking of his consulship, stated that he accepted the place only from the fact that Secretary Bryan gave him the right to preach whenever he wanted to and as preaching was his calling, he preferred to do that to any other occupation he knew of, and when Secretary Lansing assumed the duties of the office he resigned, as he did not know whether he would be permitted to exercise the same rights under him as he had under Mr. Bryan.

FIRE DESTROYS NEGRO DWELLING

FIFTEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS IS THE AGGREGATE LOSS OF FOUR HOUSES.

Two fires occurring in rapid succession Saturday destroyed three negro houses and damaged another. The first alarm, sounded at two-thirty, was occasioned by a blaze in a small negro cabin near the ice factory on East High street. The cabin was destroyed before the fire department could reach the scene; it was located out of the corporate limits.

At three-fifteen the engine made a quick run to East Hill, where the house belonging to Will Moore, colored, was almost consumed before the alarm was sounded. The house next door, owned by Will Keelo and occupied by Charles Stocker, both colored, quickly took fire. Sampson Brown's house also burned for a few minutes. The first building to catch fire was completely destroyed with a loss of approximately $700. Only $300 in insurance was carried. Half the furniture from this house was saved. Will Keelo lost his dwelling, which was ruined by fire and water; three-fourths of the furniture of Charles Stocker was saved. The loss here will total $700. The third dwelling was only slightly damaged. Some trouble was occasioned in making the connection between the hose and one of the hydrants.

ASSOCIATION COMES TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE.

The forty-seventh annual session of the Duck River Missionary Baptist association came to a close Sunday at Gravel Hill. The meeting was one of the largest in the history of the association, and was pronounced a great success from every standpoint. The financial obligations of the churches of the association were all paid in and every church in the organization showed a decided improvement over last year.

The place for the holding of the next meeting will be with the Mt. Lebanon Baptist church of Columbia. Rev. J. S. Caruthers, of Columbia, was re-elected moderator; Rev. J. W. Shirrell, of Columbia, re-elected first vice-moderator; Rev. G. E. Elder, second vice-moderator. A. J. Armstrong was re-elected secretary, to which office he has been elected for sixteen consecutive years. There was a strong fight made against him for the place, but Armstrong without the least effort on his part vanquished his opponent. L. B. McConicoe, assistant secretary; J. W. Crosby, treasurer.

The following auditing board was elected: J. W. Johnson, chairman; E. C. McConicoe and M. B. Batson.

MANY HOURS SPENT IN WRESTLING WITH COUNTY ROAD LAW

COMMITTEE CONSIDERS EXISTING STATUTE SECTION BY SECTION.

NUMBER CHANGES SUGGESTED

Adjournment Is Taken Until The Third
Monday In September to Give Better
Opportunity for Study of Points
Upon Which no Agreement Made.

After spending about six hours going over, section by section, the greater part of the road law, the joint committee of the county court and the Good Roads association on Monday adjourned until the third Monday of September, when its labors will be resumed.

The meeting was attended by eight of the members of the joint committee as follows: Judge McKnight, Justice English, Jackson, Davis, Webster and Messrs. Hayes, Brown and Petty.

The committee took up the existing road law by sections and many changes and amendments were offered by the various members, but upon the really important changes suggested, it was agreed that final action would be deferred in order that the members might have the opportunity to give to them careful consideration.

It will probably require several long sessions before the committee can complete its labors, because of the magnitude of the task undertaken and the divergent views of the members. With nearly a dozen members on the committee and each member with a different idea upon some proposition it takes some considerable time to whip things into shape.
